TALL SHIPS: ESBJERG TO STAVANGER

21 -26 JULY 2018

- Sail as crew on the famous Santa Maria Manuela
- Helm the ship, trim the sails, go aloft, take the watch at night
- Be centre stage during Tall Ships festivals in 2 cities and 2 fishing villages

Santa Maria Manuela is one of over 80 historic sailboats competing in the Tall Ships Regatta in 2018. The leg from Esbjerg to Stavanger provides an extraordinary sail training opportunity where everyone, regardless of previous sailing experience is fully involved in the operation of the ship.

Each trainee will be placed in a watch team for tack and gybe training aboard 68m classic sailing ship, one of best preserved from Portugal's famous white fleet. Sail training will include navigation and knot tying classes.

We start our sail in company from the seaport of Esbjerg following departure ceremonies expected to attract hundreds of thousands, and sail by night and day through the North Sea towards the stunning Norwegian Fjords.

During our voyage we will stop in the traditional fishing ports of Sirevag and Sandness, for lively nautical festivals and sail through Lysefjord, known as one of the most beautiful fjords of Europe, where the famous promontory of Preikestolen is located - a 600 meter sheer cliff with a flat summit. The finishing line lies further north in Stavanger - a fascinating city with a historic centre, home to traditional 18th century wooden houses and Norway's oldest cathedral.

A warm Nordic welcome awaits with festivities and parades celebrating the arrival of the Tall Ships.
